

I think Wisconsin government should be able to decide what calls can be limited. I hate intrusive calls in the evening. If I want to do business with a company, I will contact them. I am never swayed to do business with someone who calls, and sometimes I won't do repeat business with them if I have since gotten calls. I welcome any of them to send me the information in the mail, and most refuse.